Ryan Scribner provides corporate site location, economic development advisory, and planning services to companies and communities based upon 20 years of public and private sector economic development service, including as the leader of the regional economic development organization for Pickaway County, Ohio, as Pickaway County Administrator and public policy positions with the Ohio Board of Regents and Ohio General Assembly. Ryan has successfully negotiated and closed over $2 billion in large-scale industrial projects, developed a highly respected workforce development program, guided community economic development planning for cities, counties, and townships, and supported the development and operation of Joint Economic Development Districts, port authorities as well as Transportation Improvement Districts. Mr. Scribner successfully attracted a global Italian manufacturing company to Ohio as part of a major foreign direct investment win. Ryan is serving companies with corporate site location projects, advises 10 counties in Eastern Ohio and 4 communities in Central Ohio for economic development advisory services, is coordinating housing studies for an Illinois community, and advising the operation of a county Transportation Improvement District.
